I would recommend not issuing any permits. The Town and City work together a lot and I would not want to upset them by issuing a permit to move dirt over there water main just to please the applicant. I also think we should have a conversation before the planning board meeting so we are all on the same page when we get calls from the applicant.

They want to get things moving and start working at the site.. not construct homes.. but begin earth work.
We usually do not issue permits until plans are signed and all other items are addressed.. unless the PB has placed a condition in the approvals which allows for it.

I would suggest that we discuss this in more detail internally before the upcoming PB meeting on the 12th if possible? I would like to make sure we have our ducks in a row. I've attached for your use a PDF of a Grading Permit Checklist that we use and the approved Planning Board Resolution. Thank you.

I am not aware of any changes from what was approved by the PB. I know MRB has been working through our review of the submitted revised plans and have some questions that remain outstanding that need to be addressed before we can sign off. So I am thinking, and I apologize as I have not yet verified, that he is requesting an approval from the PB to move forward with mass grading and erosion and sediment control items now to move this along. I am not aware if this is a PB decision or not but I am sure Eric will verify or already has.

Typically, if allowed, I've attached what would be required to be provided.

Not sure what Rocco is requesting here? We gave him conditional approval. Are these the plans we need to sign assuming he addressed the conditions? Or has he made substantial changes to the layout that requires him coming back to the Board? If Board action is needed, he missed the submission date for the 1/12 meeting
