Greetings,

Thank you for sending the plan on the above referenced project for review. This is the first I've seen this proposal. The way this is to work – the client's engineer submits this proposal to us for a concept review. Then the decision is made if this is possible, how many lanes, and size of lanes, and any other highway mitigations that need to happen. A permit would then be required for this project. Please send them our way to start the process.

Thank you for allowing me to comment.

Sincerely,
Greg
